~Phil's Corner~

A frail old man went to live with his son, daughter-in-law and four year old grandson. The old man's hands trembled, his eyesight was blurred, and his step faltered.

The family ate together at the table, but the elderly grandfather's shaky hands and failing sight made eating difficult. Peas rolled off his spoon onto the floor. When he grasped the glass, milk spilled on the tablecloth. The son and daughter-in-law became irritated with the mess. "We must do something about grandfather," said the son. "I've had enough of his spilled milk, noisy eating, and food on the floor."

So the husband and wife set a small table in the corner. There Grandfather ate alone while the rest of the family enjoyed dinner. Since grandfather had broken a dish or two, his food was served in a wooden bowl. When the family glanced in grandfather's direction, he sometimes had a tear in his eye as he sat alone. Still, the only words the couple had for him were sharp admonitions when he dropped a fork or spilled food. The four year old watched it all in silence.

One evening before supper, the father noticed his son playing with wood scraps on the floor. He asked the child sweetly, "What are you making?" Just as sweetly the boy responded, "Oh, I am making a little bowl for you and Momma to eat your food from when I grow up." The four year old smiled and went back to work.

The words so struck the parents that they were speechless. Then tears started to stream down their cheeks. Though no words were spoken, both knew what must be done. That evening the husband took grandfather's hand and gently led him back to the family table.

For the remainder of his days, he ate every meal with the family. And for some reason, neither husband nor wife seemed to care any longer when a fork was dropped, milk spilled, or the tablecloth soiled.

Children are remarkably perceptive. Their eyes ever observe, their ears ever listen, and their minds ever process the message they absorb. If they see us patiently provide a happy home atmosphere for family members, they will imitate that attitude for the rest of their lives. The wise parent realizes that every day the building blocks are being laid for the child's future.

Let us be wise builders.

THIS IS A HAMMER
 By Samantha Mazzotta

Locating Source of Toilet Leak

Q: The other day I noticed a small puddle of water at the base of the toilet. I wiped it up, only to notice the next day that the puddle was back. It's clean water so I think it's a leak from the tank, but I can't find any visible drips. The tank itself tends to sweat a bit, so I can't pinpoint where the water is coming from. Should I call in a plumber? -- Christine H., Toledo, Ohio

A: Try a few more things to try and pinpoint the source of the problem. Visually check the tank and the bowl for cracks -- most toilets are pretty sturdy, so it's unusual for them to crack for no reason, but do check. The tank is more likely to crack, and if so, it needs to be completely replaced. At least it's easier than replacing the bowl. If you don't find a crack, check the shutoff valve (usually what looks like a faucet handle jutting from the wall below and behind the toilet) and its attached inlet tube for leaks. Flush the toilet so that the tank begins filling, and observe the inlet components. You may also need to run your hand along the valve, inlet tube and the inlet connection at the bottom of the tank, checking if any water is leaking and running down the inlet tube or the back of the toilet, out of sight. Next, test for a silent leak to confirm whether the leak is happening in the tank or not. Take the tank top off. Flush the toilet and let the tank refill completely. Then, take a crayon or wax pencil and mark the high-water point with a small line. Walk away for 10 minutes, come back and see if the water is still at that point or has gone down. If it has fallen below the line, mark the new water point and leave it for another 10 minutes. Check again to see if the water level continues to fall. If the tank is leaking, check some possible sources of the leak. First, make sure the flapper valve at the bottom of the tank is completely closed. This is one of the biggest causes of a slow leak from a tank -- although it doesn't explain the water on the floor, as the water leaks through the flapper valve into the toilet bowl. Next, check the seal at the base of the flush assembly, and any other visible seal, for deterioration.

Finally, consider that small amount of condensation on the tank. Could it be the cause of the puddle? Try insulating the interior of the tank, or sliding a tank cover over the outside (both available at home improvement stores) to reduce the condensation.

Once you've eliminated all the smaller reasons for the puddle of water on the floor, it's time to look at a more serious possibility: that the seal between the base of the toilet and the floor has begun to fail. It's not a particularly difficult or time-consuming repair, but the toilet will have to be lifted off the base in order for the wax ring, which acts as the main sealant, to be replaced. If you don't have much experience with toilet repairs, this is where a plumber would come in.

HOME TIP: To keep the seals and other parts of a flush assembly in top shape for years, avoid placing a bleach-based toilet cleaner cake in the tank. Bleach can corrode the assembly components.

¥ On April 13, 1742, George Friedrich Handel's "Messiah" premieres in Dublin. Although singing the oratorio has become a Christmas tradition, the Messiah received its world premiere during the Christian season of Lent. Handel composed the score for Messiah in just 24 days.

¥ On April 14, 1818, Noah Webster, a Yale-educated lawyer with an avid interest in language and education, publishes his American Dictionary of the English Language. The dictionary, which took him more than two decades to complete, introduced more than 10,000 "Americanisms."

¥ On April 12, 1861, the Civil War begins when Confederate shore batteries under General P.G.T. Beauregard open fire on Union-held Fort Sumter in South Carolina's Charleston Bay. During the next 34 hours, 50 Confederate guns and mortars launched more than 4,000 rounds at the poorly supplied fort.

¥ On April 10, 1906, O. Henry's second short-story collection, "The Four Million," is published. O. Henry was the pen name adopted by William Sydney Porter. Porter began writing in the late 1880s but didn't apply himself seriously until 1898, when he was jailed for embezzling from a bank in Austin, Texas.

¥ On April 15, 1924, Rand McNally releases its first comprehensive road atlas. The first version was called the Rand McNally Auto Chum. Today Rand McNally is the world's largest maker of atlases in print and electronic media.

¥ On April 11, 1945, the American Third Army liberates the Buchenwald concentration camp near Weimar, Germany. Buchenwald will be judged second only to Auschwitz in the horrors it imposed on its prisoners. Among those saved by the Americans was Elie Wiesel, who would go on to win the Nobel Peace Prize in 1986.

¥ On April 9, 1969, the Chicago Eight, indicted on federal charges of conspiracy to cross state lines with intent to incite a riot at the 1968 Democratic convention in Chicago, plead not guilty. The trial turned into a circus as the defendants and their attorneys used the court as a platform to attack President Richard Nixon, the Vietnam War, racism and oppression.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Amber began blackmailing Hope about her addiction to anti-anxiety medication. Brooke continued to make a case for Rick and Caroline to work together. Amber tried to be the center of attention at Caroline's welcome home party. Hope had an anxiety attack at the celebration and snuck out to take some pills. Everyone wanted to play matchmaker for Caroline, but would she end up choosing Rick or Thomas? Dr. Barton didn't understand how Hope still had plenty of pills long after her prescription ran out. Thomas found Caroline and Rick getting acquainted by the pool. Wait to See: Liam rushes to save a life. Dr. Barton delivers some shocking news to Hope.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Billie suspected that EJ was behind the stolen pensions. Sami was floored by the news that Nicole was carrying Rafe's baby. Will finally admitted to Marlana that he is gay. Carrie tried to be optimistic about a future with Austin but still found herself drawn to Rafe. Melanie and Chad's relationship grew stronger despite Gabi's machinations. Abigail literally ran into the new guy in town, Cameron, who turned out to be Lexie's brother. John shook Hope out of her trance by showing her a picture of Bo. Ian swept Kate in his arms. Lexie received the devastating diagnosis of an inoperable brain tumor. Wait to See: Hope discovers there is more to the Anastasia egg than meets the eye. Madison and Brady take on a project together.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Heather Webber tried to take the upper hand after Sam visited her at the psychiatric hospital. Starr and Michael got to know one another despite the rift between their families. Patrick paid Maxie a visit at the courthouse. Kate asked Ewen to hypnotize her again. Carly took her relationship with Johnny public at the Metrocourt. Heather guilted her son, Steve, into helping her out. Patrick was surrounded by memories of Robin on his first day back at work. Spinelli was determined to prove Maxie's innocence. Connie got reckless in front of Elizabeth and Ewen. Matt and Spinelli teamed up to solve Lisa's murder. John agreed to help Sam with her problem. Wait to See: Johnny bonds with Josslyn. Dr. Lee makes Sam a promise.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Neil told Katherine how much it meant to him to have Devon's mother and sister back in Genoa City again. Genevieve was hopeful that Jack would take her back if she let him have the company she stole out from under him. Ashley and Nikki teamed up to try to talk Jack out of having a high-risk surgery. Neil accepted Katherine's job offer to become CEO of Chancellor Industries. Victor accused Victoria of going after Beauty of Nature just to spite him. Tucker and Sofia staged an argument, resulting in Sofia getting "fired." Sofia then asked Victoria for a job. Victoria told Chelsea about how Adam once stole a woman's baby. Wait to See: Adam attempts a heroic rescue of Chelsea and her baby. Nikki learns a devastating secret about Victor.

COLLECTING
By Larry Cox

Lemon Squeezer

Q: I have an old metal iron squeezer identified as being "The Arcade No. 2." -- Cathy, Amarillo, Texas

A: The Arcade Manufacturing Company of Freeport, Ill., made lemon squeezers during the early years of the past century. The No. 2 is valued at about $15. A good reference is "300 Years of Kitchen Collectibles" by Linda Campbell Franklin (Krause, $29.95).

Q: I have a bracelet that is identified as being "Big Sister's Birthday Bracelet," probably from the 1940s. I am enclosing a picture of it in its packing box. Any idea of its value? -- Jim, Sackville, N.B., Canada

A: What you have is a radio premium. "Big Sister" was a daytime radio drama sponsored by Rinso Soup that aired on the CBS network from 1936 until 1952. The series featured Alice Frost in the title role. The storyline was set in the fictional town of Glen Falls and revolved around Ruth Evans and the sacrifices she made for her younger sister, Sue, and crippled brother, Neddie. Your bracelet is probably worth about $20, perhaps a little more since it is in the original mailing box.

Q: I inherited a set of dishes from my grandmother, and I would like to know the value and where I might take it to sell. It is Leigh Ware. -- Wilfred, Albuquerque, N.M.

A: The Leigh Pottery Company was started in 1926 in Alliance, Ohio, and continued until the early 1930s. Even though there is some dispute about exactly when the company folded, Lois Lehner, author of "Lehner's Encyclopedia of U.S. Marks on Pottery, Porcelain & Clay" claims production ended in 1931. If you wish to know the value of your china, I recommend a good appraiser. You have several that are certified in Albuquerque, including Suzanne Staley, www.suzannestaley.com, and 888-758-1118. To sell your china, you might show your set to antiques dealers in your area.

Q: I have U.S. Navy honorable discharge papers from World War II. I would like to sell them. -- Sheila, Palm Coast, Fla.

A: Discharge papers from WWII are fairly common and generally sell in the $10 to $20 range, depending on condition and any supporting documentation.

PAW'S CORNER
By Sam Mazzotta

Flying With Your Pet

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I have to take a trip across the country in about a month, and I hate the thought of leaving my dog "Snoops" alone, even with a house sitter stopping by. I don't want to put him into a cargo crate and ship him to where I'm going. Can I sneak my dog on board the airplane instead? -- Sign me "Shhhh" in Little Rock, Ark.

DEAR SHHHH: Why sneak your dog aboard? Some airlines allow very small dogs -- those that can fit into a handheld carrier that fits beneath the airline seat in front of you -- to fly with their owner. Check with your airline about this option, any additional fees, rules and restrictions well before your flight. Under no circumstances should you try to sneak your dog into the passenger cabin. You will be found out, and the complications of your trip will multiply exponentially.

Flying your pet, or with your pet, is a common activity and a common worry for pet owners. Some pet websites list airlines with pet travel policies, such as dogfriendly.com, which recently updated its list. Most interesting is the newly launched airline, Pet Airways (<http://www.petairways.com/>), which doesn't fly people at all -- just pets (with a human attendant on board to monitor and care for them).

No matter how you decide to get Snoops across the country, follow a few important steps when transporting him. Make sure his carrier is sturdy and comfortable and includes his favorite toys and blanket. Don't feed him less than five hours before his flight. Give him water two hours before the flight. If you aren't confident in the airline's ability to transport him, consider leaving him with a sitter or at a pet hotel until you return.

These rewards can save you a few cents on a car wash or a few hundred dollars on car repair. And, the best news is - the cards are valid for one full year! Our members will post their ever-changing "Rewards" right here on the site. All you need to do is show your own Local Rewards card to the vendor in order to receive their special reward.

How Much Does It Cost? As we launch the Local Rewards program, we'll be selling the cards at a reduced rate of only $10. (That is less than $0.03 per day for access to major savings while supporting the local community!) We do anticipate this price to increase soon, so don't wait, buy early - buy often! They also make fantastic gift cards!
